Campbell's Tomato Soup

This was an actual test made by a group of New York grocers. They prepared, according to directions, several brands of tomato soup—some of them much more expensive than Campbell's—and then undertook to pick the best one by taste alone, without seeing the label. They were expert soup-tasters, and they all picked Campbell's.

So would you if you made the same test. Try it and see.

FORTY PRISONERS IN RECORD LINE-UP AT HEADQUARTERS

Masked Detectives View Most Important Collection of Criminals Taken in Years.

Forty men, every one of them trying to look unconcerned, stood today on the raised platform in the "line-up" room at Police Headquarters. Some stood quiet and resolute; others "weaved" from foot to foot, their gaze roving the inhospitable place.

At one side, their faces screened behind black masks, stood the detectives of the Central Office, acquainting themselves with the lineaments of the two scores in the line.

Capt. Jimmie Dunn, who has been in the Detective Bureau thirty-five years and has learned the value of this prolonged "once over," plucked the sleeve of the new detective at his side and said:

"Look over this bunch carefully, sonny. It's the most wonderful line-up we've had here in many years. There's forty of 'em, twenty taken in by Central Office men and the rest by harness bulls. Take a long look!"

you'll not see a line-up like this for many a day.

"Now, those three over there—see 'em?—they're Eddie Caron, Arthur Gants and Thomas Stone. They're here for stealing $3,000 in jewelry from Ryan's store, at No. 708 Eighth Avenue, March 11. Some one threw a brick through the show window, you know. A fellow named William Nelson tried to stop 'em and got a bullet in his leg.

"And there's Leon Scheenthal. He says he lives at No. 1408 Avenue A. He came in for assault and robbery of Oswald Hewitt of No. 488 East One Hundred and Forty-ninth Street. Held him up on Fort Washington Avenue Oct. 8 last.

"Next to him is Federico Poni, and then comes Louis Stone. They're supposed to be Italian con men. The two fellows on the end of the line are Louis Levinsky and Barney Niebor, said to be a pair of burglars. And now take a peep at the trio over this side. They're James Mayo, Michael Gilbert and Herman Lindman, arrested in Borough Hall, Brooklyn, charged with being automobile thieves.

"Then we come to a bunch charged with an opening. They're Harry Feinberg, Israel Brown and Victor Diamond. They've got records. They were caught trying to get into the safe in Herman Michaelson's saloon at No. 58 Blocker Street last Saturday night. They'd cut through a brick wall, too.

"Those two in the middle look like a couple of yeggs, too. They're George Gordon and Albert Schipster, who were pinched for getting at the safe of Ponchar's jewelry store at No. 173 Clinton Street. One of the bulls got Schipster in the leg with a bullet in the fracture.

"And there's a handy. He's Giuseppe Chiarollo, known also as 'The Count' and 'The Chevalier.' He's wanted for murder in Italy, they say. The last two had cats or canisters with them—John W. Jones and Felipe Guardino. The Sullivan Law'll get them, probably.

"It's a great bunch. Better take another look."

BOY CRACKSMAN CAUGHT.

The Brooklyn police are looking for a "Pagin" who tried to rob the safe of Joseph J. Millie's feed store at No. 75 Washington Avenue, Brooklyn, with the assistance of Willie McDonald, fourteen years old, at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Millie stepped out of his office, leaving $700 in the safe. When he returned a man stood guard, while the boy was trying to jimmy open the door of the safe. Millie raised a club and the man ran. Millie captured the boy. In the Children's Court today he was turned over to the Children's Society.

The police say the man with Willie has been forcing other boys to steal for him.

SIXTY SOCIETIES IN PARADE ON THE 17TH

Irish Volunteers in State Uniform to be Big Feature St. Patrick's Day.

More than sixty organizations, social, benevolent and patriotic, have sent in their acceptances to join the big St. Patrick's Day parade on Wednesday. Grand Marshal Michael J. Brown and his aides were busy to-day allotting places to the various units so as to ensure as nearly as possible military formation by battalions. The parade, for which most of those who will participate in it, will start from Fortieth Street and Fifth Avenue, north to Sulzer's Harlem River Park. Forty of the best bands in the city as well as one from Providence, R. I., and one from Montreal, will provide the marching music.

The First Regiment of the Irish Volunteers in full New York State uniform, under the command of Major T. J. Nolan, will be one of the prominent features of the display. The volunteers will hold a reception drill and review in the evening at Terrace Garden. Judge T. C. Crain will be the reviewing official. Then there will be dancing.

a plea of not guilty before United States District Judge Cushman today to two indictments charging him with engaging in a conspiracy to defraud the Government.

The indictments grew out of an investigation of charges that vessels under charter to the company had been used as supply ships for German men-of-war in nearby waters. Buenz was released in $5,000 on the first indictment and allowed to go on his own recognizance on the second. Felix Sadner, who sailed as supercargo on the steamship Capitano, is the only one of five original defendants who has yet to plead. Sadner is at sea.
